Piagetti Update March 2008

Working in Moura Brazil And seeing God work!

Praise the Lord all went well with our family in Brazil. After a torturous flight with Zayn that would discourage even the best of us, Jesus made the whole time in Fortaleza one full of peace, good health and amazing vision. As Erika experienced for the very first time the events and programs at the surf school, it was emotional for all of us. The children responded in love and gratitude for all that The Lord is doing through our efforts, our support and prayers. The ones that are faithful are thriving despite their circumstances.

New easy to read Bibles were purchased for these students so that the Word is always available thanks to those who financially supported this trip. We are busy now preparing a student registry so that we can have more specifics of their lives in an non intrusive way. We have also developed a class schedule to include things like worship time and a declaration of faith.

Like Chuck Smith says "healthy sheep reproduce" and that is exactly what has been happening. Wagner and Gerlania, the workers of the surf school, have helped a fellow surfer get off the street and introduced him to the Savior of Lives and the only one that can truly free you from drug addiction. Saved and clean for 2 months, he is now helping Wagner with the school.

Andrew, the YWAM leader of Moura Brasil, has been an invaluable asset to help launch the work at the surf school. He and his wife have worked there for about 8 years and their experience has proved extremely helpful.

While we were there, we saw the need for mission groups to go down with a heart to serve the families of these students with minor repairs to their homes. As well as a camp site, that can serve as a way for these children to escape this environment for a week and be flooded with Jesus' Love, Word, and Hope.

What's next...

- 1 Praying for God's guidance in going back with a small short-term team.
- 2 The provision of land that can be used as a camp. And all the work associated with that.
- 3 Praying for God's provision for the Piagetti family to go into full time ministry.
